

Academic Costumes

The wearing of academic costumes is a custom that goes back to the Middle Ages. Since the early European and English universities were founded by the church, the students and teachers were required to wear distinctive gowns at all times. Although the custom was brought to this country in Colonial days, the requirement for students was soon dropped. The custom for professors was confined to special occasions such as graduating exercises and inaugurations of new presidents. With the increase in the number of educational institutions and the development of new subject-matter fields, some confusion arose in time about the type of gown and the specific color to denote various degrees. To introduce desirable uniformity and set up a clearing house for new developments, a commission representing leading American colleges produced The Intercollegiate Code in 1895. In 1932, a national committee of the American Council on Education revised this code into The Academic Costume Code. It was revised in 1959. Although not obligatory, most of the educational institutions in the country follow it in awarding their degrees, earned and honorary.

The most significant part of the academic dress is the hood. The color of its velvet border indicates the academic field, and it is lined with the color or colors of the institution granting the degree. The hoods of those receiving a Master of Arts or an honorary degree of Doctor of Letters have those same color indications, but each successively higher degree carries with it a longer hood. The doctoral hood also has side panels on the back.

Although most doctoral gowns are black with black velvet bars and panels, in some cases the color of the gown is that of the university conferring the degree. All such gowns have black bars and panels.

Academic fields may also be indicated by the color of velvet on the doctoral gowns; three two-inch bars on the sleeves and a five-inch border extending from the back of the neck down the two sides in front. For the degree of Doctor of Philosophy the color is dark blue; for Doctor of Medicine, green; for Doctor of Education, light blue; for Doctor of Science, golden yellow. These colors also appear in the velvet of the hood unless the hood represents an honorary degree. The Doctor of Laws has purple velvet. The Doctor of Humanities is white, as is the Doctor of Letters. The Doctor of Public Administration has a hood with velvet in pale aqua.

Caps are black. Tassels are usually black for bachelor's and master's degrees, gold for doctorates. Gowns for bachelor's and master's are plain black, but sleeves of the latter are short with 'trailing elbows.' Doctoral gowns of European universities are usually very colorful. The caps are often of some soft material like velvet and are ordinarily not of the conventional mortar-board shape. Several examples may be seen in the university faculty:

Arts, Letters, Humanities—white	Medicine—green
Commerce, Accountancy,	Music—pink
Business—drab	Nursing—apricot
Education—light blue	Philosophy—dark blue
Engineering—orange	Physical Education—sage green
Fine Arts—brown	Science—golden yellow
Journalism—crimson	Social Science—cream
Law—purple	Theology—scarlet
Library Science—lemon	Veterinary Science—gray

Spring Commencement

Saturday, May 16, 1998

These graduating seniors have provided a gift to Morehead State University in honor of individuals who have made a lasting impression on their lives. The encouragement, faith and confidence bestowed upon these seniors can be seen by the accomplishments of their college careers.

Morehead State University joins these new alumni in expressing sincere gratitude to the following people:

Alma Mater

(The audience is invited to participate.)

Far above the rolling campus,
Resting in the dale,
Stands the dear old Alma Mater
We will always hail.
Shout in chorus, raise your voices,
Blue and Gold—praise you.
Winning through to fame and glory,
Dear old MSU.

Commencement Profiles

Dr. Ronald G. Eaglin became the 12th president of Morehead State University on July 1, 1992. Bringing nearly 30 years of experience in higher education administration to the MSU post, he previously was chancellor of Coastal Carolina University in Conway, S.C.

A former vice chancellor for academic affairs at the University of South Carolina's Spartanburg campus, Dr. Eaglin began his career in higher education administration in the area of student life/housing and has taught both in public school and university settings. In the early 1970s, he served as southeast regional director of the American College Testing Program (ACT).

He holds a bachelor's degree in biology and mathematics from Southeast Missouri State University, a master's degree in student personnel administration from Southern Illinois University and a doctoral degree in educational psychology from the University of Utah.

A graduate of Leadership South Carolina, he is a member of the NCAA President's Commission. Active in the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, President Eaglin is a member of its Board of Directors and has served on numerous AASCU committees.

He frequently serves as a consultant and often presents workshops for colleges on student retention, leadership and academic advisement. His professional efforts have taken Dr. Eaglin to Cyprus as chair of a Fulbright High Commission delegation and more recently to Taiwan, the Republic of China.

A member of several honorary societies such as Psi Chi and Phi Delta Kappa, Dr. Eaglin also is active in his community. As president of MSU, Dr. Eaglin serves as a member of the Board of Directors of the Morehead-Rowan County Chamber of Commerce. A member of the Kentucky Council on Higher Education's Conference of Presidents, he was appointed by Gov. Brereton C. Jones to the East Kentucky Development Roundtable, an advisory working group to the East Kentucky Office of the Cabinet for Economic Development. He also is a member of the steering committee of the Central Appalachian Alliance, a partnership of energy and land holding companies with universities in Kentucky and Virginia. Additionally, Dr. Eaglin is a member of the Kentucky Appalachian Commission and the Task Force to Develop a Master Plan on Tourism for Kentucky.

He and his wife, Bonnie, have four adult children and three grandchildren.

Dr. Marshall D. Banks, professor and former chair of the Department of Physical Education and Recreation at Howard University, has focused much of his efforts on improving the opportunities for the academic success of minority student athletes. An Ashland native and MSU alumnus, Dr. Banks was the first African American athlete in the Ohio Valley Conference and is regarded still today as one of the top track and field athletes in OVC history. A member of the Howard University faculty since 1978, he serves as director of the University's Research Center for Sports Studies and is a member of the McIntosh Commission for Fair Play in Student-Athlete Admissions. A member of the MSU Alumni and Athletic Halls of Fame, Dr. Banks taught and coached at MSU where he was the first African American faculty member. He earned his master's and doctoral degrees from the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign. He also was on the faculty there as well as at SUNY College-Cortland and the University of Colorado. Active in professional organizations, he has been a presenter at NCAA meetings, the National Black Coaches Association, the National Press Foundation Forum and an international conference in Brazil.

Dr. Shirley L. Fannin, associate deputy director of Diseases Control Programs with the Los Angeles County Department of Health Services, has devoted her life to helping others. Recognized as an authority in communicable diseases, especially the AIDS virus, she oversees an $11 million a year group of programs with more than 300 employees and is responsible for keeping tabs on numerous public health problems. As a medical consultant for the American Red Cross, Dr. Fannin led the drive that provided 16,000 flu immunizations and 3,000 child immunizations with the help of Red Cross volunteer nurses. The daughter of former Lewis County residents, Dr. Fannin earned her B.S. degree from MSU, her M.D. degree from the University of Illinois College of Medicine and completed course work for the Master of Public Health degree at UCLA. She is board certified in pediatrics, in preventive medicine and as a medical examiner. A recipient of numerous awards for her work as a physician and as a public health professional, Dr. Fannin also is a member of the MSU Alumni Hall of Fame. Additionally, she is the author or co-author of several journal articles and has contributed to various textbooks.

Randall L. Simpson of Maysville, a candidate for the Master of Business Administration degree, is the student speaker. He represents a new breed of students in that all of his graduate work has been taken through distance learning technologies-the Internet and compressed video. This semester has been his first time on the MSU campus; however, even that class was a distance learning course emanating from Northern Kentucky University.

The son of Lee and Carol Simpson of South Charleston, Ohio, he earned his Bachelor of Science degree from The Ohio State University in mechanical engineering. At OSU, he was a member of the Kappa Theta Epsilon cooperative education honor society.

He is employed as a marketing product specialist with Emerson Power Transmission and has been with the company for five years. He and his wife, Rachael, have a one-year-old daughter, Rylee, and are members of the United Methodist Church. In his free time, he enjoys playing golf.

Academic Costumes

The wearing of academic costumes is a custom that goes back to the Middle Ages. Since the early European and English universities were founded by the church, the students and teachers were required to wear distinctive gowns at all times. Although the custom was brought to this country in Colonial days, the requirement for students was soon dropped. The custom for professors was confined to special occasions such as graduating exercises and inaugurations of new presidents. With the increase in the number of educational institutions and the development of new subject-matter fields, some confusion arose in time about the type of gown and the specific color to denote various degrees. To introduce desirable uniformity and set up a clearing house for new developments, a commission representing leading American colleges produced The Intercollegiate Code in 1895. In 1932, a national committee of the American Council on Education revised this code into The Academic Costume Code. It was revised in 1959. Although not obligatory, most of the educational institutions in the country follow it in awarding their degrees, earned and honorary.

The most significant part of the academic dress is the hood. The color of its velvet border indicates the academic field, and it is lined with the color or colors of the institution granting the degree. The hoods of those receiving a Master of Arts or an honorary degree of Doctor of Letters have those same color indications, but each successively higher degree carries with it a longer hood. The doctoral hood also has side panels on the back.

Although most doctoral gowns are black with black velvet bars and panels, in some cases the color of the gown is that of the university conferring the degree. All such gowns have black bars and panels.

Academic fields may also be indicated by the color of velvet on the doctoral gowns; three two-inch bars on the sleeves and a five-inch border extending from the back of the neck down the two sides in front. For the degree of Doctor of Philosophy the color is dark blue; for Doctor of Medicine, green; for Doctor of Education, light blue; for Doctor of Science, golden yellow. These colors also appear in the velvet of the hood unless the hood represents an honorary degree. The Doctor of Laws has purple velvet. The Doctor of Humanities is white, as is the Doctor of Letters. The Doctor of Public Administration has a hood with velvet in pale aqua.

Caps are black. Tassels are usually black for bachelor's and master's degrees, gold for doctorates. Gowns for bachelor's and master's are plain black, but sleeves of the latter are short with "trailing elbows." Doctoral gowns of European universities are usually very colorful. The caps are often of some soft material like velvet and are ordinarily not of the conventional mortar-board shape. Several examples may be seen in the university faculty:

Arts, Letters, Humanities—white	Medicine—green
Commerce, Accountancy,	Music—pink
Business—drab	Nursing—apricot
Education—light blue	Philosophy—dark blue
Engineering—orange	Physical Education—sage green
Fine Arts—brown	Science—golden yellow
Journalism—crimson	Social Science—cream
Law—purple	Theology—scarlet
Library Science—lemon	Veterinary Science—gray

Alma Mater

(The audience is invited to participate.)

Far above the rolling campus,
Resting in the dale,
Stands the dear old Alma Mater
We will always hail.
Shout in chorus, raise your voices,
Blue and Gold—praise you.
Winning through to fame and glory,
Dear old MSU.

These graduating seniors have provided a gift to Morehead State University in honor of individuals who have made a lasting impression on their lives. The encouragement, faith and confidence bestowed upon these seniors can be seen by the accomplishments of their college careers.

Commencement Profiles

Dr. Ronald G. Eaglin became the 12th president of Morehead State University on July 1, 1992. Bringing nearly 30 years of experience in higher education administration to the MSU post, he previously was chancellor of Coastal Carolina University in Conway, S.C.

A former vice chancellor for academic affairs at the University of South Carolina's Spartanburg campus, Dr. Eaglin began his career in higher education administration in the area of student life/housing and has taught both in public school and university settings. In the early 1970s, he served as southeast regional director of the American College Testing Program (ACT).

He holds a bachelor's degree in biology and mathematics from Southeast Missouri State University, a master's degree in student personnel administration from Southern Illinois University and a doctoral degree in educational psychology from the University of Utah.

A graduate of Leadership South Carolina, he is a member of the NCAA President's Commission. Active in the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, President Eaglin is a member of its Board of Directors and has served on numerous AASCU committees.

He frequently serves as a consultant and often presents workshops for colleges on student retention, leadership and academic advisement. His professional efforts have taken Dr. Eaglin to Cyprus as chair of a Fulbright High Commission delegation and more recently to Taiwan, the Republic of China.

A member of several honorary societies such as Psi Chi and Phi Delta Kappa, Dr. Eaglin also is active in his community. As president of MSU, Dr. Eaglin serves as a member of the Board of Directors of the Morehead-Rowan County Chamber of Commerce. A member of the Kentucky Council on Higher Education's Conference of Presidents, he was appointed by Gov. Brereton C. Jones to the East Kentucky Development Roundtable, an advisory working group to the East Kentucky Office of the Cabinet for Economic Development. He also is a member of the steering committee of the Central Appalachian Alliance, a partnership of energy and land holding companies with universities in Kentucky and Virginia. Additionally, Dr. Eaglin is a member of the Kentucky Appalachian Commission and the Task Force to Develop a Master Plan on Tourism for Kentucky.

He and his wife, Bonnie, have four adult children and three grandchildren.

Dr. James E. Davis of Athens, Ohio, professor emeritus of English, is a former chair of the Department of English at Ohio University.

An author and a teacher, Dr. Davis is a two time graduate of the University where he earned bachelor's and master's degrees, and completed the Ph.D. degree at Florida State University.

While a student at FSU, Dr. Davis became a member of the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE). He later edited the organization's best selling book, "Dealing with Censorship," and was elected president of the professional organization in 1992.

Recognized for his accomplishments on numerous occasions, Dr. Davis was granted the Alumni Undergraduate Teaching Award at Ohio University in 1997.

A Kentucky native, he is married to the former Hazel Kidd of Rowan County who also is an MSU graduate.

Minnie Adkins of Isonville and her late husband, Garland Adkins, brought national attention to Elliott County through their hand-made works of art.

Recognized as pioneers in the folk art industry, the pair attained success individually and as a couple. Mrs. Adkins is known for her colorful roosters and larger carved wooden animals, which include tigers, possums, bears and foxes, as well as smaller, humorous self-portraits. Her husband, best known for his horse sculptures, created the piece that inspired the logo for the University's Kentucky Folk Art Center.

Mrs. Adkins, with assistance from her husband worked together to create some of the most sought after pieces of art in the country. Some of those works are on display in the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Adkins was the recipient of the Folk Art Society of America's Annual Award of Distinction and MSU's Appalachian Treasure Award.

Since her husband's death last year, Mrs. Adkins has diversified her work and is now doing pottery pieces and woven coverlets.

Kimberly Leah Collins of Morehead, a senior in the College of Education and Behavioral Sciences, will be the student speaker. A dean's list student, she will graduate with honors with a Bachelor of Arts degree in elementary education.

Attending college on an honors scholarship, Collins received the Outstanding Undergraduate Student in the Department of Elementary, Reading and Special Education Award for 1997-98, received an All-American Scholar Collegiate Award in 1997 and 1998, and MSU's Academic Honors Award all four years.

As part of her educational training, Collins has assisted with various programs at Morehead, Tilden Hogge and Clearfield elementary schools. She has taught art, reading, health, safety, nutrition and math and science to students individually, in small groups, and as a class for the first through fifth grades. Earlier this week, she completed her student teaching at Owingsville Elementary School.

A 1994 graduate of Rowan County Senior High School, she is the daughter of George E. and Karen Elaine Collins.
